

Ramonda Talkie

Ramonda Talkie is a Senior Leadership Consultant and Executive Coach with Executive Development Associates. As a specialist in executive coaching and organization development, Ramonda brings over twenty years of leadership and consulting experience to EDA.

Ramonda works with senior level leaders to deepen and sustain their leadership abilities and prepare for future change and innovation. Based on her recent studies at the Neuroleadership Institute, she incorporates new approaches to learning and leadership development. She has worked as an OD Consultant at Oklahoma Gas and Electric, and has consulted with several companies including Federal Express, Chase, Marriott, PepsiCo, BP, Eli Lilly, and Motorola.

Ramonda also served as Assistant Treasurer for Indosuez Bank in New York. She developed corporate investment portfolios at Harris Bank and designed energy forecasting models at Argonne National Laboratory.

Ramonda has an M.S. degree from George Williams College. She attended the University of Chicago's Graduate School of Business and studied International Economics at the University of Paris.

